O, can it be, upon a tree
A D
The Savior died for me.

D
Sure, never to my latest breath,
A/C#
Can I forget that look;

It seemed to charge me with His death,
A
Though not a word He spoke.

My conscience felt and owned the guilt,
A/C#
And plunged me in despair.

I freely all forgive.

I die that thou may live.
